

Baal (The Lord / Jesus is Lord)

Yahuah is exposing the spirit of Baal (The Lord) / (Jesus) as one of the strongmen- perhaps the strongman-over America.

The title of 'the Lord', by it's origin and implication is totally blasphemous and of Pagan origin. The whole of Christianity is guilty through the lack of use of bringing the Name of YHUH to nothingness.

How long will this continue in the hearts of these lying prophets, who prophesy the delusions of their own minds? 27 They think the dreams they tell one another will make my people forget My Name (Yahuah), just as their ancestors forgot My Name (Yahuah) through Baal (The Lord / JESUS) worship. Jeremiah 23:26,27

And in that day, declares YHUH, you will call me 'My Husband,' and no longer will you call me 'The Lord / Jesus.' For I will remove the names of the Baals from her mouth, and they shall be remembered by name no more. Hosea 2:16-17

"Baal" in the dictionary is Hebrew and means "The Lord". So since JESUS is LORD does this tell us who JESUS (Christ) really is, "BAAL"?

Many will say to Me in that day, 'Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in Your name, cast out demons in Your name, and done many wonders in Your name?' 23 And then I will declare to them, 'I never knew you; depart from Me, you who practice lawlessness (Breaker of the Torah - 10 Commandments and Sabbaths)!' Matthew 7:22-23

Webster's: Ba'al (Ba'al; Heb, ba'al, Lord, possessor)

1.) A very common name for god among the phoenecians. The word is also used of the master or owner of a house (Exodus. 22:7, Judges 19:22); of a landowner (Job 31:39); of an owner of cattle (Exodus 21:28, Isaiah 1:3), etc. The word is often used as a prefix to names of towns and men, eg., Ba'al(Lord)-Gad (God), Ba'al-Hanan, etc.

Baal (/ˈbeɪl/ bayl; sometimes spelled Bael, Baël (French), Baell)

is one of the (7) seven princes of Hell. He is mentioned widely in the Old Testament as the primary pagan idol of the Phoenicians, often associated with the pagan goddess Ashtaroth.

Wikipedia: Baal (Biblical Hebrew בעל, pronounced ('baʕal), usually spelled Baal in English) is a Northwest Semitic title and honorific meaning "master" or "lord" that is used for various gods who were patrons of cities in the Levant and Asia Minor, cognate to Akkadian Bēlu. A Baalist or Baalite means a worshiper of Baal.

"Baal" can refer to any god and even to human officials. In some texts it is used for Hadad, a god of the rain, thunder, fertility and agriculture, and the lord of Heaven. Since only priests were allowed to utter his divine name, Hadad, Ba'al was commonly used. Nevertheless, few if any Biblical uses of "Ba'al" refer to Hadad, the lord over the assembly of gods on the holy mount of Heaven, but rather refer to any number of local spirit-deities worshipped as cult images, each called Ba'al and regarded in the Hebrew Bible in that context as a "false god"

Baal is a title meaning "lord" that was applied to a number of West Semitic gods.

Baal is a Christian demon. According to Christian demonology, Baal was ranked as the first and principal king in Hell, ruling over the East. According to some authors Baal is a Duke, with (66) sixty-six legions of demons under his command. The term "Baal" is used in various ways in the Old Testament, with the usual meaning of master, or owner. It came to sometimes mean the local pagan god of a particular people, and at the same time all of the idols of the land. It is also found in several places in the plural Baalim, or Baals (Judges 2:11, 10:10).

There were many variations in which BAAL is known, such as the Sun God (Sunday God), the God of fertility (Easter), and Beelzebub, or the lord of flies".

During the English Puritan period, Baal was either compared to haSatan or considered his main assistant. "Ba'al" can refer to any god and even to human officials; in some texts it is used as a substitute for Hadad, a god of the rain, thunder, fertility and agriculture, and the lord of Heaven.

Baal is identified as the ruler of the demons. Matthew 12:24 (Beelzebub is another name for Baal)

Baal-hamon, one of Baal's names, means "the lord of wealth or abundance. is the principality warring against the great transfer of wealth to the chosen of Yahuah.

You must war against this spirit to see your inheritance released. Claim Jeremiah 51:44 (Bel in this verse is Baal).

Baal-berith, another of his names, means "the lord of the covenant." The Hebrew word baal actually means "The Lord", "husband" or "marriage." This spirit always attempted to cause Israel to "divorce" or break covenant with Yahuah and "marry" or align with this other God.

Consistent with this, in so many ways America has broken covenant with Yahuah and married Baal (The Lord and the God of Fortune, the same God of so many ancient Pagan Religions, This is the strongman behind most covenant-breaking.

Baal is the strongman behind sexual perversion. Homosexuality was and is one of his big strongholds. All sexual sin and perversion in America is, to one degree or another, under Baal's orchestration. You will continue to see Yahuah expose leaders in the church who aligned themselves with this spirit.

Pray for the church to be cleansed and for Baal's hold on America in this area to be broken.

Baal always goes after the next generation, trying to cut off the extension of Yahuah's covenants..

He is a violent spirit and even required human sacrifice. Abortion is under Baal, as is the "cutting" of today's young generation (see 1 Kings 18:28), the vampire and goth movement, and the death culture in general that has so invaded America.

Baal is leading the fight to avert the great awakening planned for the young generation of the World today.

Witchcraft/Pharmakeia and occult spirits in general operate under Baal. So does Jezebel.

Jeremiah 51:44 Yahuah will punish Baal in Babylon, And I will make what he has swallowed come out of his mouth; And the nations will no longer stream to him. Even the wall of Babylon has fallen down!

Before the KJV

The Ghost/Spirit difference exists in all major English versions prior to the KJV — dating back over 230 years to John Wycliffe's ground-breaking English version of 1380.

Compare two verses in the KJV to five previous English versions. (Spellings are original.)

Matthew 1:18

KJV (1611) — she was found with child of the Holy Ghost

Rheims (1582) — she vvas found to be vvith childe by the Holy Ghost

Geneva (1557) — she was found wyth chylde of the holy goost

Cranmer (1539) — she was founde with chylde by the holy goost

Tyndale (1534) — she was founde with chylde by the holy goost

Wycliffe (1380) — sche was founde hauynge of the holy goost in the wombe

1 Thessalonians 4:8

KJV (1611) — God . . . has also giuen unto us his holy Spirit

Rheims (1582) — God . . . also hath giuen his holy Spirit in vs

Geneva (1557) — God . . . hath geuen you his holy Sprite

Cranmer (1539) — God . . . hath sent his holy sprete amonge you

Tyndale (1534) — God . . . hath sent his holy sprete amonge you

Wycliffe (1380) — god . . . also yaf his holi spirit in us

This shows that the KJV editors were tradition bearers of a theological bias rooted not in the text of Scripture. The tradition did not start with Jerome's Latin Vulgate (5th century). It does not distinguish between "Holy Ghost" and "Holy Spirit," but reads "SPIRITUS SANCTUS" in all passages.

The Holy Spirit in the New Testament

In the Gospel of John, the emphasis is placed not upon what the Holy Spirit did for Jesus, but upon Jesus giving the spirit to his disciples. This "Higher" Christology, which was the most influential in the later development of Trinity doctrine, sees Jesus as a sacrificial lamb, and as coming among men in order to grant the Spirit of God to humanity.

Christians believe that it was the Holy Spirit whom Jesus mentioned as the promised "comforter" in John 14:26, and that it is the Holy Spirit who leads people to faith in Jesus and the one who gives them the ability to lead a Christian life. The Spirit dwells inside every true Christian. He is depicted as a 'counsellor' or 'helper' (paraclete in Greek), guiding them in the way of the truth. The 'Fruit of the Spirit' (i.e. the results of his work) should be "love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control" (Galatians 5:22).

It was the Ruach ha Kodesh which the true Messiah was referring, in which all these fruits come from as well as all the Gifts!

The Holy Spirit in Christian Theology

A formal doctrine of the Holy Spirit did not begin to be developed until the early third century. Tertullian (c.160-c.225) and the Montanist heresy showed the need to distinguish between true and false activities of the Holy Spirit. Origen of Alexandria (c.185-c.254) taught that the Spirit worked primarily within the Church, whereas the Word (Christ) worked within the whole of creation.

In the 4th century, a heretical group known as the Pneumatomachi or Macedonians accepted the divinity of Christ (against Arianism) but denied the full divinity of the Holy Spirit. This belief was refuted by St. Basil the Great in his De Spiritu Sancto ("On the Holy Spirit") and the Pneumatomachi were condemned by Pope Damasus in 374 and by the Council of Constantinople (Constantine) (canon 1) in 381. It was also at the Council of Constantinople (Constantine) that the divinity of the Holy Spirit was formalized. The doctrine of the Spirit was further elaborated by St. Augustine in his important work De Trinitate ("On the Trinity"), in which the Holy Spirit is seen as the bond of union and love between the Father and the Son.

The Holy Spirit, al-Ruh al-Quds, in the Quran

"Say, the Holy Spirit has brought the Revelation from thy Lord in Truth, in order to strengthen those who believe, and as a Guide and Glad Tidings to Muslims.

— Qur'an, sura 16 (An-Nahl), ayat 102 [1]

The Holy Spirit (Arabic: الروح القدس, al-Ruḥ al-Quds) in Islam is mentioned several times in the Quran, and is interpreted by Muslims as referring to the angel Gabriel.

The Holy Spirit in Ancient symbols (Idols)

The Holy Ghost surpasses the fabulous changes of the classical gods and genii. Indeed many of these fabulous conceptions were drawn from mythological sources.

The Christian's Holy Ghost descended as a dove and alighted on Christ's head at his baptism (Luke 3:22). The Holy Ghost in the shape of a bird – a dove or a pigeon – is a very ancient pagan tradition. In India, a dove was uniformly the emblem of the Holy Spirit or Spirit of God.

A dove stood for a third member of the Trinity, and was the regenerator and power. Compare this with Titus (3:5): regeneration and renewing of the Holy Ghost. A person being baptized under the Brahminical theocracy (Hinduism) from was said to be regenerated and born again, or, they were born into the spirit, or the spirit into them—the dove into or upon them.

In Rome a dove or pigeon was a legendary spirit, the accompaniment of Venus, the emblem of female procreative energy. It is therefore appropriately shown as descending at baptism in the character of the third member of the Trinity. The dove also fills the Grecian oracles with their spirit and power.

In the ancient Syrian temple of Hierapolis, Semiramis is shown with a dove on her head, the prototype of the dove on the head of the Christian Christ at baptism. At the feast of Whitsuntide, the descent of the Holy Ghost was symbolised in London by a pigeon being let fly out of a hole in the midst of the roof of the great aisle of St Paul's Cathedral. It is more than likely that this continues an ancient tradition.

On solemn occasions when the Holy Ghost was expected or invited to descend, it was more than likely that originally no one in the congregation noticed that it did. The custom therefore arose of liberating pigeons or doves at the appropriate moment.

Naturally, these doves would have been actually ascending, having realized that they were no longer constrained, but that would not have bothered the faithful who eventually came to understand the symbolism. In any case, the doves would most likely have been tame ones bred for the purpose and possibly made no great effort to escape, like the pigeons in crowded city plazas. So, it is quite possible that sometimes one of the tame birds did alight on the priest – perhaps they were trained to do just that. The pictures of priests or gods with a dove on their head might be depictions of actual rituals.

The Holy Ghost was the third member of the Trinity in several Eastern religions as well as the Gothic and Celtic nations. This notion of a third person in the the godhead was diffused among all the nations of the earth. Father, Son and Holy Ghost, (1 John 5:7) express the divine triad of which the Holy Ghost was the third member. The Holy Spirit was considered the third member of the Trinity.

In these triads the third member was not of equal rank with the other two. In the Theban Trinity, Khonso was inferior to Arion and Mant. In the Hindu triad, Siva was subordinate to Brahma and Vishnu. The Holy Ghost conception of the Christian world is an exact correspondence with these older ideas. It has always stood third in rank after the Father and the Son, a slave doing all the hard work and getting little worship for it. Today it is still seldom addressed in Christian devotion, but perhaps that is because it was so badly treated that it was not too diligent in its tasks. It was not too good, for example, at making the holy book of Christianity infallible.

The Holy Ghost was the Holy Breath which, in the Hindu traditions, moved on the face of the waters at creation, and imparted vitality into everything created. A similar conception appears in the scriptures.

In Psalms 33:6 the Word of Yahuah made the heavens, and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth. The Brahminical conception of creation by the Divine Breath, the Holy Ghost, which was breathed into Adam to make him a living soul. The Prana or principle of life of the Hindus is the breath of life by which the Brahma, the Creator, animates the clay to make man a living soul.

Holy Ghost, Holy Breath and Holy Wind were equivalent terms for the sigh from the mouth of the Supreme God, as laid down in pagan traditions. The Ruach ha Kodesh was mighty rushing wind from heaven which filled the house on the day of Pentecost (Acts 2:2).

The Holy Wind is an accepted term for the Holy Ghost in ancient religions. The doxology, reported by a missionary, in the religious service of the Syrian church runs thus:

Praise to the Holy Spiritual Wind, which is the Holy Ghost; Praise to the three persons which are one true God.

The Hebrew Ruh Elohim, translated Spirit of Yahuah (Gen. 1:2) in our version, is literally, Wind of Yahuah. The word Pneuma, of the Greek New Testament, is sometimes translated Ghost and sometimes Wind, as suited the fancy of the translators.

In John 3:5 the word is Spirit, in verse eight both Wind and Spirit, and in Luke 1:35 the Ruach ha Kodesh—all translated from the same word. In the Greek Testament the word Pneuma is used for Spirit, Holy Ghost, breath and Wind so that in the Christian Scriptures they are synonymous. An unwarranted license has been assumed by translators in rendering the same word different ways.

The Ruach ha Kodesh appears also as a tongue of fire, which sat upon each of the apostles in Acts 2:3.

Buddha, an incarnate God of the Hindus over two thousand years ago, is often seen with a glory or tongue of fire upon his head. The visible form of the Holy Ghost as fire was accepted among the Buddhists, Druids and Etrurians. The Holy Ghost, or Holy Spirit when visible, was in the form of fire or a bird and was always accompanied with wisdom and power. The Hindus, Persians and Chaldeans made offerings to fire, emblem of the Holy Ghost or Holy Spirit as the solar fire.

Holy men of Yahuah, like some of the prophets, are considered inspired by the Ruach ha Kodesh (2 Peter 1:21; Acts 28:25). The ancient Celts were moved by the Holy Ghost and also claimed that their Salic laws (seventy-two in number) were inspired by the Salo Ghost or Holy Ghost, known also as the Wisdom of the Spirit, or the Voice of the Spirit.

The Holy Ghost imparted by the laying on of hands is also an ancient custom. By the putting hands on the head of the candidate, the Celts conveyed the Holy Ghost or Holy Spirit.

Baptism by or into the Ruach ha Kodesh accompanied with fire (Mt 3:2) is also traceable to a very ancient period. The Tuscans, or Etrurians, baptized with fire, wind (ghost) and water. Baptism into the first member of the Trinity, the Father, was with fire: baptism into the second member of the Trinity, the Word, was with water: baptism into the third member of the Trinity, the Holy Ghost or Holy Spirit, was with breath, gas, gast, ghost, wind, or spirit.

In ancient countries, the child was taken to the priest, who named him before the sacred fire. Then he was sprinkled with holy water from a vessel made of the sacred tree known as the Holme. To impart the Holy Ghost by breathing (John 20:22), the priest blew his breath upon the child to transfer the Holy Ghost, thus baptizing the child by air, spiritus sanctus or ghost. The practice of breathing in or upon was quite common among the ancient heathen.

The Holy Ghost as the agent in divine conception, or the procreation of other Gods. Yahusha was conceived by the Ruach ha Kodesh (Mt 1:18), and we find similar claims of divine procreation via the Holy Ghost in the old religions. In the Hindu myths, Sakya was conceived by the Holy Ghost Nara-an.

Sesostris of Egypt, according to Manetho, asked the oracle: Tell me, O thou strong in fire! who before me could subjugate all things, and who shall after me? The oracle rebuked him, saying, First God, then the Word, and with them the Spirit. And Plutarch, in his Life of Numa, confirms that the incarnation of the Holy Spirit was known both to the ancient Romans and Egyptians. The doctrine was nearly universal.

The origin of the tradition of the Holy Ghost is easily traced to the Brahminical trifold (Hinduism) conception of God. First is the god of power or might, Brahma or Brahm, the Father, second is the god of creation, the Word.

Third is the god of generation and regeneration, the Holy Spirit or Holy Ghost. Under the Brahminical theocracy, the Holy Ghost was the living, vital, active, life-imparting agent.

The Holy Ghost in the Christian Scripture is the agent of Christ's conception, because, as Matthew declares, he was conceived by the Holy Ghost. The Holy Ghost was also the regenerating agent at his baptism, although Luke, who relates it, does not say why the Holy Spirit in the form of a bird, alighted and sat upon his head.

The reason is nevertheless fully disclosed in the older mythical religions. Christians claim baptism imparts a new spiritual life—they are born again. This new spirit appeared as a dove.

The spirit was originally female so that the Trinity consisted of two masculine principles and a feminine one, the latter being the procreative or regenerative principle. At the imposition of Patriarchy the sex of the Holy Ghost altered from female to neuter.

The primary windy idea of the Holy Ghost is traceable to that early period of society when the untutored people of the earth in their ignorance of nature easily believed that movement signified the passage of a god.

The Buddhists had their god Vasus, who manifested himself as fire, wind, storms, gas, ghosts, gusts, and the breath, thus being nearly a counterpart of the Christian Holy Ghost. This god sprang from the supreme, primordial God, who was to Brahmins and Buddhists a fine, spiritual substance—aura, anima, wind, ether, igneous fluid, or electrical fire or fire from the sun, giving rise to baptism by fire. The third member of the Trinity, subsequently seems to have arisen from this being and had the same properties.

What was a sin against the Ruach ha Kodesh and why was it unpardonable? It was refusing to allow the Ruach ha Kodesh to effect the second birth. Baptism in the Ruach ha Kodesh is the only means of redeeming sins against Yahuah the Father and Yahusha the Son, the refusal or prevention of baptism meant there could be no forgiveness. It was the only route so could not be avoided if sin was to be pardoned. An offense committed against the Ruach ha Kodesh barred the door to forgiveness, in this life or that to come. To sin against the Ruach ha Kodesh was to block the path by which the door of heaven was to be reached.

Denying that it was the Ruach ha Kodesh is the Spirit of Yahuah and declaring another Holy Spirit as being the true Spirit of the Creator and Messiah. Yahusha said: If you do not have his Ruach ha Kodesh then you are not his!
