

“Who is a YAHU” the Chosen Yahu?

Lets start by looking at the Name EliYah (Elijah), this name is written two different ways - אליה, pronounced as "eliy-Yah" or אליהו, pronounced as "eliy-Yahu". There are three components to this name. The first is אל (al/el) the Hebrew word for "power" and "authority" and is commonly translated as God or god. The ך is a letter added to the end of a noun to mean "my" hence אלי means "my Alahym (Elohim - God)". The ך also doubles as the first letter of the next part of the name - ה (Yah) or יהו (Yahu).

Both "Yah" and "Yahu" are two different forms of the tetragrammaton יהוה (YHWH), the name of God. The root of YHWH as well as Yah and Yahu is היה literally meaning "to breath (AH)".

To the ancient Hebrews, only that which can be perceived through the senses (sight, feeling, hearing, smell or taste) is believed to exist. This is why the ancients usually erected statues of a god. When Moses asked Yahuah "who should I tell them has sent me?" Yahuah said, tell them "haYAH asher haYAH" has sent you. While this phrase is commonly translated as "I exist because I exist (I AM that I AM)" it is better understood as "I breathe and I have breath".

In the Hebrew mind that which "exists" has breath, this can be a god, man, animal or even a mountain. The breath (often translated as spirit) is the character of an individual or object. Yahuah may not be seen but he is breath and does exist.

When each of these components are combined the name means "my Alahym (Elohim - God) is YAH". But as the word אל (al/el) means power and authority יהוה means "to have breath", we can see the meaning "My authority is the one who has breath".

Origin of YAHU

Ancient Paleo transliteration of the Hebrew tetragrammaton YHWH (YHWH/YHVH) as some modern scholars believe it was pronounced before the Yahu's/Jews ceased to pronounce it about three centuries b.c. (Babylonian Captivity/Modern Hebrew)

The Free Dictionary

Ya·hu  (jə'hyoo) Ninth century b.c.

King of Israel who, according to Scripture, slew Ahab, Jezebel, and the prophets of Baal (The Lord/Jesus). He is proverbially known for his swift chariot driving.

Yahu ['dʒi:hju:]

1. (Christian Religious Writings / Bible) Tankh (Old Testament) the king of Israel (? 842-?815 BC); the slayer of Jezebel (II Kings 9:11-30)

The Hebrew word Yahu (Yahoo) is a name of Alahym (Elohim) (God) Yahuah. It is commonly found at the end of people's names. It represents a Divine attribute added to the name. For example, YeshaYahu (Isaiah) means "Yahuah's redemption," YirmiYahu (Jeremiah) means "Fear of Yahuah."

I sometimes wonder if the internet company Yahoo! became such a major success simply because Yahuah likes that they chose his name!

So are you a YAHU? A Chosen Yahu, saved by YAHUAH, through YAHUsha, meaning YAHU Saves and Delivers!

Yahusha the Messiah (ha Maschiah) was given through the YAHU's (Babylonian Modern Hebrew calls them Jew's, our Messiah came through the Tribe of YAHU(D)AH, giving us the Lion of YAHU(D)AH, if you confess with your mouth YAHUsha and believe in your Heart that YAHUAH raised YAHUsha from the dead and he was the First Fruit of the Resurrected, then you shall be saved, then you can invite the Ruach ha Kodesh into your life and be Baptized in the Ruach, the Spirit of YAHU!

The Name of YHUH (pronounced Yah-oo-ah) was once very greatly revered and acknowledged, so much so that many were named after His Name as a way to show honor and respect.

Over the years attempts were made to hide the Name of Yahuah, the practice of speaking out his Name was almost entirely lost as Jewish and Christian religious traditions disregarded speaking the Name of Yahuah.

The prophets of Yahuah foretold that would happen, they also foretold that His Name would not always be treated with disregard. Today there is a growing revelation about the restoration of the Covenant Name of Yahuah.

Ancient names not only ended with "yahu", but also began with "Yahu"; this was determined by comparing other languages like Arabic and Cuneiform.

The New Brown-Driver-Briggs-Gesenius Hebrew English Lexicon. In Arabic, Jehu was pronounced "Yahu". See Hastings Dictionary of the Bible. All this evidence and more, suggest that "Yahu" was used at the beginning of names, instead of the more modern Jewish "Yeho" cover up of the set-apart name. Therefore, the 27 following names are restored to their original pronunciation.
